

bonus points: and are disappointed if they don't react to them (as you like it when someone mistakes you for a different gender)

these are the unedited words of real, actual, living trans people. you, dear reader, you might be one of them because i want to is a complete and self-supporting reason to transition.

reasons to transition

I asked some people for a valid reason to transition your gender. These are their answers.

These are their answers.

because it ain't gonna transition itself

It was time for a change.

because reasons

because the moon is in Ophiuchus because the show must go on

curiosity

skirts are cool

because f* the patriarchy?

getting pissed at cis people doing gender wrong

Knowing about both mens and womens clothes is helpful if you're ever on jeopordy minneapolis, mn

december 2024

a church of the sacred body production joy.

my mom already has a son and a nonbinary child, she needed a daughter to complete her collection.

just out of curiosity, b/c why not "know"?

off my beard so doubled down with testosterone

don't feel like shaving

fomo

"who's asking? .. well, that's not any of your business"

i'm playing a 100% gender completion run soft skin""

not completely satisfied with just one busy gender

No but actually, cuz masculinity is cool & gender is 'ake

You want to be hot

because you want to get fucked as a girl instead of as a boy fight me Ray Blanchard, you coward makes the absolute worst people mad about your existence

wanted to make people confront their sexism

curiosity

you can

minmaxing

realizing it's really toxic to be jealous of a friend just because she's happier after her transition.

you can transition your gender someone has to have said this already, but because you fucking feel like it.

Because your imaginings of your future/older self are of a different gender than the one you were assigned years ago as a newborn.

Because your

Tits, knockers, double D's, fun bags, hooters, chest puppies Brooks, melons, jubbles, chesticles, mamarries Milk tugs, big breasts, shoulder boulders on your chest!

because my fatboy roommate peed behind the fridge while he was drunk and it was such an undeniably "fitty" move that I realized I was not, like, never been, and could never become "void"

"fuck accessories."

"oooh look at all the fun accessories they have."

"meh I'm bored with this one"

because a man is never what I saw in my head because the more I change my self to some definitive, the closer I am to line-

draft evasion

got too envious of people with good names 8:23 PM

if these words resonate with you, if you want to transition your gender too, it's hot

at age 4 i told everyone who would listen I was going to be Bert and Ernie when I grew up.

You want to kill a guy legally and take all his stuff did not want to die wondering if life could be better!